

Farm Marketing and Production Systems Require Alteration

President Coolidge Declares Government Would Omit No Effort to Prevent Repetition of Recent Misfortunes Involving Agriculture—Will Outline Views in Detail in Next Monday's Conference.

Farm Imports May Be Increased

Production, While Needful, by No Means Enough, He Declares, Economy in Selling Methods Also Required—Real Problem Not Yet Before Farmers.

Washington, Nov. 13. — President Coolidge declared in an address tonight before the annual meeting of the Association of Land Grant Colleges that the government would omit no effort to prevent a repetition of recent misfortunes involving agriculture, but asserted that the farmer also must readjust his methods of production and marketing "until he comes within sight of the new day."

It was the first public address Mr. Coolidge has made since the election and was devoted to a discussion of agriculture, which is the principal subject before the college representatives at their conference. The President expects to outline his views on farming conditions more extensively next Monday in opening the conference of the agriculture commission, which he recently appointed to formulate recommendations for the permanent stabilization of the industry.

The immediate problem, the President said in his address tonight, is to bridge over the difficulties resulting from abnormal war stimulated surpluses, while, he added, preparations must be made also for the time fast approaching, when "we are likely to be one of the greatest of the agricultural buying nations."

The hope lies, he declared, in organization and methods which look to economies and efficiencies and in producing and distributing. Meanwhile, the President urged that educators and farm leaders turn their attention to scientific marketing. The agriculture problem today, he insisted, is not on the side of production, but on the side of distribution. Too little thought has been given to this phase, he added.

"Up to the present time," Mr. Coolidge continued, "the main emphasis of our agricultural education has been placed upon production. I believe that was right, because unless there is economy and efficiency in production there is no need for thought in any other direction. But our experience of the last few years has demonstrated that it is by no means enough. The farmer is not only a producer, he is likewise a merchant. It does him no good to get quantity production, in fact it may do him harm unless he can likewise have scientific marketing. I want to see courses in cooperative marketing and farm economics alongside of soil chemistry and animal husbandry. I want to see a good farmer on a good farm raise a good crop and secure a good price."

Real Problem Yet to Come.
The farmers must face the problem of the future, coming possibly in a generation, Mr. Coolidge declared, when this nation will be preponderantly commercial and industrial.

"In a very few years," he said, "the natural increase of population and the inevitable tendency to industrialization, will place us above the nations producing a deficit rather than a surplus of agricultural staples. We were fairly on the verge of that condition when the World War gave a temporary and artificial stimulation to agriculture, which ultimately brought disastrous consequences. Even today if I am making up my balance sheet we include our requirements of coffee, tea, sugar and wool, we already have a considerable agricultural deficit. It may not be generally known but even now we consume more calories of food in this country than we produce. The main reason is that we do not grow near enough sugar. Our only agricultural exports of consequence are cotton, meat products, it must be explained to the two latter, it must be explained that the surplus will shortly turn against us. We shall be not only an agricultural importing nation, but in the lives of many who are now among us, are likely to be one of the greatest of the agricultural buying nations."

"In this lies the assurance to the American farmer that his own future is scarcely enough. But he must readjust his methods of production and marketing until he comes within sight of the new day. Our immediate problem has been to carry him through the intervening period of abnormal and war stimulated surpluses. After that, we shall face the real problem of our long future: the problem of maintaining a prosperous, self-reliant, confident agriculture in a country preponderantly commercial and industrial. It has been attested by all experience that agriculture tends to discouragement and decadence whenever the predominant interests of the country turn to manufacture and trade. We must prevent that in America. I believe the Land Grant colleges is the main great agency for its prevention. It has added a new element to the equation which has never before been in it. You must make that element decide. It is true there are some countries in which the balance of these elements has been so well maintained that agriculture has continued to flourish alongside prosperous industries and commerce. But there are others where the population is approximately static and the community comparatively self-contained. It is not our destiny to be a community of that kind. We must look forward to a long continuing increase of population. We must realize that our relationship with the outside world, already enormously important, will increase in number, complexity, and importance to their influences on our social structure."

But One Simple Product.
"We can not begin too soon to prepare for this future. It may seem contradictory to suggest that in a time

GOVERNMENT ENDS OIL CASE HEARING

Greater Speed Than Expected Used in Effort to End Litigation Between Fall and Delivery

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 13. — Government attorneys in presenting their case more briefly than expected, late today completed their opening arguments in the government's suit in federal court here for cancellation of oil leases and contracts valued at $100,000,000 with the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company. Arguments of the government's case was opened during the morning with the presentation of briefs of fact and law by Owen J. Roberts, and was concluded during the afternoon with arguments of law by former Senator Alton C. Parker.

The stand of officials of the oil company in the case is to testify relative to the contesting leases and contracts was scored by former Senator Parker in attacking a statement made at the opening of the trial that the defendants were pleased that the case was out of partisan politics and in open court, where the truth might be learned.

The defense's contention that a case was required in connection with the Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, fuel, oil and storage base because it was a war plan, also was criticized by the attorney.

"I wonder if it was war plan that they were so solicitous about? I wonder if it was not Doheny's and Fall's plan?" he said.

BUTLER CHOSEN AS LODGE'S SUCCESSOR

Democrats of Massachusetts Will Contest Constitutionality of Law Involved

Boston, Nov. 13. — William M. Butler, who directed President Coolidge's campaign for nomination and as chairman of the Republican national committee conducted the party's campaign in the recent election, will take the lead in the United States senate made vacant by the death of Henry Cabot Lodge, but may find it challenged by the Democratic state organization on a question of the constitutionality of the act under which Governor Cox appointed him today.

Filing with a legislative clerk late today a bill which would strike out of the state statutes the law enacted in 1922 which gave the governor the power of appointing a senator to serve until the next state election, Charles H. McGuire, chairman of the Democratic state committee, said there was no objection to Mr. Butler being named for a temporary period. The Democratic party does feel, he said, that an appointment extending over two years passes the period that might be considered temporary and violates the federal constitution amendment providing for direct election of United States senators.

MAN SAYS HE IS ONE SOUGHT AS HEAD OF SMUGGLING RING

New York, Nov. 13. — Arthur Medianski, wholesale jeweler, appeared before federal authorities today with the announcement that he was the "Medianski" described by the treasury department at Washington yesterday as the ringleader in a huge smuggling venture which involved Mrs. Theresa Mors, whom "Kid" McCoy is charged with having murdered at Los Angeles. The Washington report stated that Medianski was in flight to foreign lands to escape prosecution. The jeweler, through Myron Sulzberger, his attorney, declared he had no intention of leaving the United States.

His connection with the case, he said, was that of an expert on gems and antiques. Because he had served as purchasing advisor to the late Mrs. Mors and her husband, Albert, in Vienna, five years ago, he said, he was called as a witness to identify valuable imports government operative discovered among Mrs. Mors' effects after her death.

THREATENING LETTER FOUND NEAR SCENE OF EXPLOSION

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 13. — Federal agents investigating the possibility that a bomb wrecked the Grand Rapids post office late yesterday afternoon, taking a toll of three lives and injuring 13 persons, announced tonight that they had in their possession a threatening letter that might lead to some tangible clue to the method used and to the parties implicated if a bomb was used.

The letter was found by Ensign Harold McDonald of the United States naval reserve force. It is an automobile a short time before the explosion. Although for the most part, the words on the letter are blurred and almost illegible, the words "disaster" and "death" are quite clear. A man's picture accompanied the note and federal agents are now scouring the city in an attempt to place the man under arrest.

STABBED IN SUBWAY

New York, Nov. 13. — George J. Oser, 31, was stabbed four times and probably fatally wounded tonight by Melroy Demore, 27, a negro, when he was returning home from work for knocking down Oser and a woman on a crowded subway platform at Broadway and 165th street, according to police.

LORD DECLARES BUDGET SYSTEM HALVED COSTS

Over Two Billion Dollars Saved to Tax Payers Through Plan, He Tells Chamber of Commerce of State

VETOES BIG HELP

"Providential Presidential" Disapproval of Legislation Saves $126,000,000 He Adds—Coolidge Sets Limits

New York, Nov. 13. — Asserting that ordinary expenses of the government had been cut in half during the first three years of the budget system, Herbert M. Lord, director general of the budget, tonight urged the Chamber of Commerce of the state of New York, in annual convention, to enlist in a campaign for popular support of further drastic national retrenchments.

In 1924, said Mr. Lord, federal expenditures were $2,198,571,000 less than in 1921, the last year before budget control. Seeking to illustrate what his saving meant to the nation, he pointed out that two billion dollars was equivalent to half the gold coin and bullion in the United States at the present time, the entire savings of 12,300,000, depositors in the nation's saving banks over a 20-month period, the value of all passenger automobiles, trucks, and motorcycles manufactured in this country in 1923.

Says Vetoes Bring Savings.
"It exceeds the amount paid in dividends by all the railroads of the United States for five years," Mr. Lord continued. "It is nearly three times the balance of our foreign trade in 1922. It is more than twice the value of the American cotton crop of 1923 and nearly two and a half times the value of the country's wheat crop the same year."

"That two billion dollars lopped from the nation's bill of expense was worth saving," he said. The budget chief said the government hoped to end the current fiscal year with a surplus, but that "had it not been for presidential presidential vetoes $126,000,000 would have been added to expenditures this year and our hope for a balanced budget would have been a disappointment."

President Coolidge already had issued instructions, said Mr. Lord, that total departmental estimates for 1924 must not exceed $1,898,000,000, exclusive of the public debt and postal service requirements.

ELEPHANTS PLAY OWNERS MUST PAY

Three Pachyderms Chase Woman and Children to Roof and Wreck Furniture

Philadelphia, Nov. 13. — Three baby elephants, part of a vaudeville act at a local theatre, today scored such a smashing hit in private life that their owner, Don Darrah of New York, was held in $300 bail pending repairs to certain parts of the northeast section of Philadelphia.

The trio of pachyderms, confined at night in a garage, early today took offense at sounds from a baby motor car, snapped their chains, and sallied forth with the car owner leading the procession to a spanking place.

Prepared by Mrs. Anna Dammore in her kitchen halted the elephantine section of the parade, and one of the tusked investigators by uprooting the fence. Mrs. Dammore gazed out of her window a second and then, with three young Dammons, sought the roof. The elephants came through the back door, taking it with them.

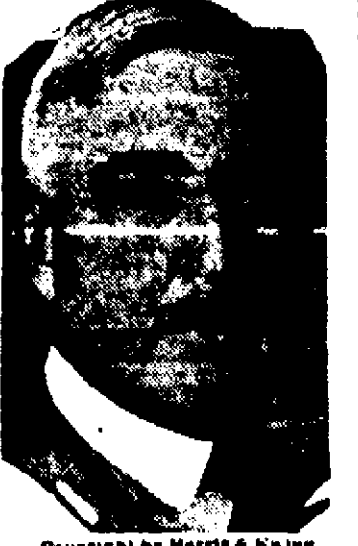

"Babe," one of the runaways, burned his trunk on the stove, seized that article by its underpinning and gave it a course of calisthenics. The other elephants wrecked the toolbox and splintered the furniture as they accompanied "Babe" then headed an exodus from the Dammore home.

Police meanwhile summoned Darrah, who returned his charges to the theatre yard, where they were fastened to heavy stakes, but shortly afterwards they once more broke loose and for a brief period they roamed about until rounded up again and securely anchored.

ROBERTSON ORDERED TO ANSWER BOARD

Firemen's Chief Will Appeal Case to United States Supreme Court

(By the Associated Press)

Chicago, Nov. 13. — Federal Judge Wilkerson, who recently granted a petition of the United States Railroad Labor board to compel testimony before it, today entered an order directing D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, to appear before the board and testify. Counsel for Mr. Robertson immediately gave notice of an appeal to the United States supreme court.

The appeal of Robertson will delay final decision in the controversy as to the board's power to compel testimony but Weymouth Kirkland, counsel for the labor board, plans to expedite a hearing.

The dispute originally arose over the failure of western railroads and representatives of the engine service brotherhoods to agree on wage and working rules, and when the labor board took jurisdiction the representatives of the employees refused to testify, disputing the right of the board to compel testimony and declaring the board was a partial tribunal.

Judge Wilkerson on the board's petition held that its right to appeal to the federal courts included the right to compel testimony. Now comes the case of Mr. Robertson and J. McGuire of Chicago, a general chairman of the engineers, defendants.

GRANGERS OPPOSE DAYLIGHT SAVING

Truth-in-Fabrics Bill Will Be Vigorously Pushed Through Congress

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 13. — A rising tide of opposition to daylight saving was indicated in the reports from masters of several state granges at this afternoon's session of the national body.

The truth in fabrics bill pending in congress will be vigorously pushed by the Grange. It was said by delegates attending the convention.

The Grange has fought for a pure fabrics law ever since it achieved its notable victory for stringent pure food legislation, and all the energies of the organization will be mobilized in the next session of congress, delegates stated.

Master S. L. Strickings, New York, reported that out of 392 subordinate Granges in that state, 513 own their own halls, the value of the latter ranging all the way from $1,000 to $50,000 and the total value of halls and contents reaching approximately $2,100,000.

In New York state also Grange survey has been completed listing young people in rural communities over 14 years of age not in school. The survey disclosed a surprising number of youths who should be in school and the Grange will endeavor, through its educational aid fund, to provide state scholarships and otherwise encourage as many as possible to finish their educational undertaking.

L'HOMMEDIEU DROPS HIS CHARGES AGAINST TROOPER

Lockport, Nov. 13. — A warrant charging Corporal Foley of Troop A of the state constabulary with assault, preferred by ex-Senator Irving L'Homedieu of Medina, was withdrawn.

L'Homedieu, Corporal Foley, Captain Robinson, in charge of Troop A, and witnesses, appeared before a town justice last night and L'Homedieu announced the withdrawal of the warrant.

L'Homedieu's car was stopped late last Friday night west of this city. The trooper claims he found L'Homedieu intoxicated, and that the latter used abusive language. The former soldier claims the trooper struck him.

ELECTRIFICATION OF FARM STUDIED

Utilities Commissioners Must Equalize Rates to Best Interests of All Concerned

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 13. — Greater use of electricity for the convenience of country folk as well as their city neighbors, was urged by F. K. White, former professor of agricultural engineering at Illinois university, speaking before the National Association of Railway and Utilities commissioners today. Mr. White said the task of public utilities organizations is to harmonize service and rates between rural and urban patrons to the ultimate best interest of all the people of all states, both in social and economic aspects.

He outlined the improved living conditions of the farm as well as the increased efficiency of production through the use of electrical energy and asserted that already 13 states have established organizations with that purpose in view.

Mr. White noted that there are two schools of thought relative to rural electrification, the one insisting that farm electrification shall pay its own way and the other school insisting that agriculture "must have its electricity whether or no it can pay the full cost."

The latter school, he added, "would make urban rates sufficiently high to cover any deficit incurred in agricultural service."

"In the first place, it is doubtful if agriculture will subscribe to a subsidized development which will make it subservient to the urban centers even if the city dwellers might be willing to shoulder the financial responsibilities," the speaker declared.

"Certain," both sides should consent before it would be safe to proceed along this line and therefore there is no telling where a "subsidy" might end. This theory is contrary to the principle on which the light and power industry is built and is altogether a question of practice, from an economic standpoint. It is not more logical to recognize at the outset that rural electrical service should stand on its own feet?"

HILL PLEASED WITH ACQUITTAL BY JURY

Will Use Opportunity to Demand Modification of Volstead Law by Congress

Senator Philip Hill of Baltimore, who today was acquitted of charges of violation of the prohibition law by a jury in the United States court, declared after the verdict that the finding gave him an opportunity to go before congress and demand modification of the Volstead act, and the passage of the 2.75 per cent beer bill on the grounds that the Volstead act, in its present form, discriminates and is unfair.

The indictment against Colonel Hill accused him of illegal manufacture and possession of wine and cider and maintaining a nuisance in his home. The latter charge was dismissed at the direction of Judge Morris A. Soper, on the ground of insufficient evidence.

United States Attorney Amos W. W. Woodcock, who conducted the prosecution, refused to comment on the verdict and said the case was ended so far as he was concerned. Other officials of the district attorney's office were reported as saying that Judge Soper's ruling on fruit juices did not apply to home brew, which is a product of malt and hops. That is still illegal, it was declared, if it contains more than one-half of one per cent alcohol by volume.

The jury which took Colonel Hill's case yesterday afternoon wrestled with it in the jury room for 17 hours.

LONG DROUGHT ENDS IN NEW YORK CITY

First Rain in 35 Days Falls Last Night—Thorough Wetting of Forests Likely

New York, Nov. 13. — With all records for drought broken, a sprinkle of rain began falling here shortly before 10 o'clock tonight. The local weather bureau predicted that New Yorkers would experience a downpour of rain tomorrow. This would have been the 36th dry day.

It was said at the weather bureau that the rain storm tomorrow would be of sufficient intensity to quench the forest fires in the Adirondacks, the moderate showers within the last 24 hours upstate helping considerably in preventing further spread of the fires in that region.

The last drought record was in 1922 when there was no rain for 23 days.

STRATEGY MAY BE CHANGED BY NEW PLANES

Ships Will Have Useful Load Capacity of Two Tons—Two Different Designs Will Be Constructed by Navy.

BIG FLYING RADIUS

Can Remain Away from Base for Day and Travel 100 Miles an Hour—Valuable in Delaying Possible Attack

Washington, Nov. 13. — Steps to round out naval armaments to an extent which may revolutionize basic strategy were announced today by the navy department.

A contract has been let with a commercial company for a new type of naval flying boat capable of a day's sustained flight at more than 100 miles an hour and with a useful load capacity of up to two tons. Two other planes different in design but with the same elements of tremendous cargo space and cruising radius are to be constructed at the Philadelphia yard.

While naval officials contented themselves with the assertion that the new craft represented "a logical development in naval auxiliaries," they did not seek to minimize the importance of the proposed construction in connection with modern studies of sea warfare.

Regardless of their attitude in the omnipresent controversy over offensive value of air craft, navy officials agreed that while possession of a few squadrons of flying boats of the type contemplated would enable the United States to embarrass seriously the success of any surprise attack coming from a long distance, their mere existence would not serve to prevent any such attempt.

BETTER RETURN FOR DAIRYMEN DESIRED

Methods Considered to Bring Milk Producers Together—Causes of Low Prices Discussed

Syracuse, Nov. 13. — Methods of bringing all milk producers in the metropolitan milkshed together to secure better return for their product were considered at the first meeting of the New York State dairyman's association during the annual convention today.

The plan is for the council to represent all classes of dairy farmers and members of all organizations selling milk, either cooperatively or not, in the state in an impartial manner.

Causes of low milk prices will be taken up and if possible a way of securing better returns worked out. C. F. Bigler will be chairman of the council.

At today's session speakers took up various phases of the dairy situation. Approximately 100 members were present. The annual dinner was held tonight with Dean H. E. Cook of Denmark toastmaster.

C. F. Bigler of Syracuse was elected president of the organization, succeeded by Prof. W. A. Stocking, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca. Other officers elected were: A. C. Brown, State Agricultural Experiment Station, Geneva, vice president; Thomas H. Quinn, secretary; and Dr. Harry Philadelphia, treasurer.

MAINTAIN FARM CENSUS DEC. 1

Albany, Nov. 13. — Commissioner George F. Pyke of the state department of farms and markets, announced today that work on the agricultural census of New York state will begin December 1. The state has been divided into districts, each in charge of a census supervisor.

Commissioner Pyke said it was expected the census would show whether there has been a considerable decrease in farming in the last few years and if there is a tendency toward turning out of large farms, through overpopulation.

COULDN'T SPELL DOLLAR

Brace Jump of South Main Street, held in City Jail Account of White House—Spelling of Dollar the day.

In these days of chasing the mighty dollar it seems as if most any child would know how to spell the word, but Bruce Jump of South Main street, this city, was arrested by officers of the local department last evening on a charge of felony, and held in the city jail last night because he used but one "L." The police find that with his arrest, a search which has lasted about ten days and one which has involved many vicinity towns, is satisfactorily concluded.

They feel that without any question he is the man who during the past two months has passed in Oneonta, Schenectady, Unadilla, Delhi, and other towns a large number of worthless checks using the names of F. M. Baker, F. H. Baker, C. L. Cool, L. H. Hiaman, and perhaps others. The checks have been largely drawn on the Wilber and Citizens' bank of this city, though at least one was drawn on the Hubert bank.

The checks have been cashed throughout Oneonta and Schenectady and a sizable number have already turned up for the attention of the local police department.

Jump came to Oneonta from Stamford about two months ago and had been driving about in a Dodge touring car, according to the police without any visible means of support. He secured rooms with a family by the name of Price on South Main street, and had picked up an odd collection of friends.

Last evening, and until 3 o'clock this morning, Jump had refused to make any statement, but the police feel confident that the evidence in their possession would convince the most skeptical of his guilt.

The state troopers have also a number of cases which they feel will fit in with the activities of Jump, and Sergeant John Cunningham of that organization was working on that angle of the case early this morning.

THOUSAND DOLLAR PRIZE SLOGAN WON BY CANADIAN GIRL

The winning slogan is adaptable to many uses in connection with the exploitation of ice cream as a pure food product and will be used in the same manner as "Say It With Flowers" is used in the florist trade.

Other entries, including hundreds from Oneonta and other New York points where the prize was offered through advertising in the daily press.

The hostesses of the afternoon were: Mrs. J. W. Seeger, Mrs. Thomas Lord, Mrs. J. S. Lunn and Mrs. Fred Shaw.

REV. J. W. RABBITT TO SPEAK

Regular Pastor of Newburgh Church and President of Otsego County Association of Ministers will speak at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday night.

Doubtless there will be a large attendance at the joint observance of many of the Oneonta churches of Father and Son week to be held at the First Methodist Episcopal church on Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock, the speaker for which is to be Rev. J. Woodman Rabbitt, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Free Presbyterian church of Newburgh and one of the best known platform speakers of the country, whose text will be, "What God Hath Joined Together." All fathers and sons of the city are cordially invited to the meeting, and no admission will be charged nor will any collection be asked.

Mr. Rabbitt will not only deliver the address but as well will provide a number of entertainment numbers which it is certain will be appreciated. Mr. Rabbitt was the speaker at the H-Y banquet at the Y. M. C. A. last year and his address aroused much favorable comment so that his return has been awaited with expectation by many in Oneonta.

He specializes in the interpretation of the English classics and for several years has taught classes in that subject in the Y. M. C. A. organizations of the east. He has traveled from coast to coast of this country, giving his addresses and lectures and his services are much in demand.

Those in charge of the meeting feel that they have been particularly fortunate in securing Rev. Rabbitt, and urge a large attendance at the mass meeting in honor of the Fathers and Sons of Oneonta.

Electric Superintendents Guests

Last evening about 30 superintendents of the Associated Gas & Electric companies, including those from Oneonta, Walton, Norwich, Ithaca, Cortland and other vicinity cities, were entertained at dinner at the Hotel Fenimore at Cooperstown by the Southern New York Railway company, General Manager A. J. Stratton of Oneonta acting as host. A special car was run on the road from Oneonta and the men had a very enjoyable evening.

"PRINCE OF PILSEN"

The Musical Company Announces Production for This Year — One Exceptionally Favorable — Presentation in January.

No announcement that would be of more interest to lovers of music in Oneonta and vicinity could be made than that the Elks' Glee Club Musical Comedy company will stage a production again this year. This year the "Prince of Pilsen," a real musical comedy which reigned supreme among productions of its kind two years ago, will be staged and, although the dates will probably be in January, the cast has already been selected and rehearsals have begun.

For several years the Glee club has staged yearly the leading amateur production of the season in Oneonta. Last year the "Chimes of Normandy" played to two capacity houses and widespread was the report of the excellence that the club had chances to produce the opera in a several good sized cities in the state.

The selection of "Prince of Pilsen" for this year was a fortunate one. It is a genuine musical comedy with scores of catchy musical selections, several of which have entered into the select group of permanent American songs, and with comedy situations of side-splitting variety. Many of the middle-aged residents of the city will remember the show vividly.

Practically the same cast of men and women which appeared in the "Chimes of Normandy" last year will produce the "Prince of Pilsen." That statement is sufficient to indicate that there are singers and actors available to fill satisfactorily every part in the production. James Keeton, Jr., will again have charge of rehearsals and the same capable company of electrical outfitters, scenery painters and stage assistants will again be on the job.

News of the fact that the club would again put on a musical show has spread to quite an extent and but recently the president of the organization received an invitation from the general Electric company to bring the troupe to Schenectady and broadcast the comedy from WGY.

BE A GOOD SCOUT

And Help the Girl Scouts of Oneonta and America.

Have you seen the special Girl Scout number of "Life," the humorous magazine? It was designed as one of the official announcements of the national Girl Scout Building and Budget campaign and has been sold by the scouts in Oneonta this week, enabling them to raise $5 toward their campaign offering. The promised quota is only $30 and any contributions from friends of the Girl Scouts will be greatly appreciated.

A recent notice from campaign headquarters in New York says: "A girl must grow in favor with God and man. She must be prepared to take her part in human society. The Girl Scout learns to assume the obligations of citizenship and is trained early to take an active share in community undertakings."

In order that more of the 11,000,000 "teen age girls in America may enjoy the benefits now received by those who participate in its activities, a national Building and Budget campaign is being conducted. Mary Roberts Rinehart is chairman, and the money is being raised by the sale of building bricks at $10 each. Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National Girl Scouts, is chairman of the campaign.

Those in charge of the meeting feel that they have been particularly fortunate in securing Rev. Rabbitt, and urge a large attendance at the mass meeting in honor of the Fathers and Sons of Oneonta.

Was skeptical of Kellogg's Bran until it gave him back his health

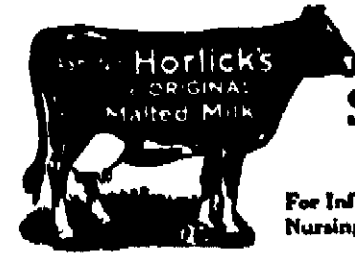

Naturally Mr. Carter—whose letter follows—was skeptical. He had tried practically everything for the relief of constipation. All had failed. But Kellogg's Bran brought him permanent relief, just as it has done for thousands of others. Read his letter:

Constitution:
I am 45 years old, and have been for years a great sufferer from constipation. I had to resign a clerical position because of constipation of blood to my head, some of which caused me to fall to the ground. I took an outdoor laboring job and tried for the first time, skeptically I admit, your Krummled Bran. The result has been wonderful. I began to be normal after I had been on the Bran about three days. No more constipation, no more Old Dr. S. and his pills, hence made by the son, etc., of trademark. You too, the most wonderful product for constipation. I have ever seen or tried. Yours very gratefully, L. T. Carter, 204 Main street, Oneonta, N. Y.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krummled, does not irritate the intestinal like drugs and pills. It acts exactly as nature acts. Eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic case of constipation, or your grocer will return your money.

You will like the exclusive, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krummled. Eat two tablespoonsful daily—in chronic cases with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipe on every package. Sold by all grocers. Made in Battle Creek.

TO HAVE TOTAL ECLIPSE

(Accounts and Vicinity to be in Path of Eclipse of January 24, Next—Story By Prof. E. W. Brown of Yale.)

Costa and vicinity is to be in the path of a total eclipse between 3 and 3:25 o'clock on the morning of January 24, next, and doubtless the following account prepared by Professor E. W. Brown of Yale university for the Associated Press will prove of interest to many in this vicinity:

(By the Associated Press)

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 13. — For a few minutes on the morning of January 24, next, the moon will get between the earth and the sun and cut off all the light we get from that body. This eclipse will be visible in the United States, and it doubtless will be seen by more millions of people than any such occurrence in the past, according to Professor E. W. Brown, of Yale university.

An eclipse is not a rare event, one or two occur every year, but the one that occurs in a territory from which the light of the sun has not been wholly obscured by the moon within the memory of any one living. "If we look over the records of past eclipses," Professor Brown said, "and the predictions for future eclipses we soon see that in any one place there will be a total eclipse of the sun only once in every few hundred years. The coming eclipse will produce darkness over a narrow band of territory which stretches from a point somewhat west of Duluth and, after crossing northern Michigan and Wisconsin, is seen in Connecticut and then passes out to sea. The hour of the phenomenon is between 3 and 3:25 eastern standard time."

There was an eclipse in 1919, visible in Brazil and Central West Africa, and another last September seen by the people of California and Northern Mexico.

The accuracy with which the time and position can be predicted for an eclipse is high. Professor Brown went on to say. The staff of the United States Naval Observatory at Washington is always at work calculating the positions of the heavenly bodies years in advance in order that the predictions may be useful. The northern and southern edges of the shadow band can be laid down within a mile. Hence, when the almanac predicts that the southern edge will cross the upper end of Central Park in New York city it is fairly certain that the shadow will not keep off the grass. All this knowledge, however, is not a product of the present generation. It has been slowly accumulating through many centuries. Most of it is due to the proof of the law of gravitation which was given by Isaac Newton toward the end of the 17th century.

"But we have to pay our homage to observers for their industry much further back than that," the professor continued. "More than 2,500 years ago the Chaldeans were able to predict when eclipses would occur, because they had learned that there is a long series of them repeated in a little over 18 years. It is remarkable that they should have been able to get this knowledge because any eclipse does not cover quite the same part of the earth's surface as a corresponding one which occurred 18 years before. They must have kept records many centuries, before the cycle was discovered. The eclipse of next January will be seen by many millions of people. In the map which has been issued by the naval observatory it is seen that the southern boundary of the band over which the sun will be totally eclipsed just covers Duluth, Minn., Menominee, Mich., Frankfort, Mich., London, Ont., Dunkirk, N. Y., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and New York city north of Central Park. Well inside the northern edge are Manhattan, Mich., Toronto, Ont., Auburn, Hudson, N. Y., New Bedford, Mass., while a mile or two outside are Syracuse, N. Y., Springfield, Mass., and Providence, R. I.

The observations which are to be made by the observatories within the region of totality are not yet fully known. Some of them will devote the brief two minutes during which the eclipse lasts to photographing that marvelous fringe of light which is never seen except at a total eclipse, known as the corona. Others will try to get accurate positions of the moon and also photographs of it so that its size and shape shall be better known.

Professor Brown is chairman of a committee appointed by the American Astronomical society to inform the public concerning this eclipse.

TED COY, YALE GREATEST VALLEY PRINCE, HE GOT PRINCE IN 1907, AND HARVARD IN 1911

This picture shows the no plus ultra of football heroes—and every high school and college player would probably give his right eye just now to be able to equal the deeds of daring, skill, strength and speed that brought immortal fame to Ted Coy of Yale, Charlie Brickley of Harvard and Sam White of Princeton.

Ted Coy played on the Yale team in 1907, 1908 and 1909, and was chosen on the All-American team his last two years. His two touchdowns in 1907 beat Princeton, 12 to 10, and his two drop kicks beat Harvard in 1909, while his great kicking and running again beat Princeton. He was one of the hardest men to tackle that ever ran with a football.

Charlie Brickley of Harvard established a remarkable record when, in 1913, he kicked the Crimson into a victory over Yale with five field goals. One of these kicks went thirty-eight yards from placement, the other four were drop kicks from the 20 to 30 yard line. The year before, Brickley kicked a 47 yard place kick against Princeton successfully, while in 1912, he won the Princeton game with a drop kick. It is said that Brickley only missed five field goals out of seventy attempts during his career at Harvard.

Sam White of Princeton beat both Harvard and Yale single-handed in 1911. Sam had spent many hours practicing picking up a loose ball as it rolled and bounded over the ground, and he got his chance in each of Princeton's two big games. Sam scooped up a loose ball on his own 15 yard line in the Harvard game, putting the Tiger ahead 8 to 6, and grabbed a second loose ball in the Yale game on Princeton's 20 yard line, sliding over the muddy goal line for another victory for the Orange and Black.

Butler for Senator. In the event of the death of Senator Lodge our first choice for appointment to fill the vacancy is William M. Butler. He intended to be a candidate for the full term against Senator Walsh and was prevented from doing so by the death of his father. He is a man of great energy to the management of the Coolidge campaign. All that was said at that time about his fitness for the office, his knowledge of Massachusetts industrial problems, his faith in the industrial future of the state and of New England, as well as of his sympathy with the policies of the President, holds good today. In addition there is the great prestige which he enjoys as a result of his admirable management of the Republican campaign. His appointment to the senate vacancy would be approved by the 700,000 people in this state who voted for Coolidge.—New Bedford Standard.

Iowa—Home of the Hurdling Aces

IOWA is the true home of the hurdler. At least most of the world hurdle records have come to pass for extended intervals in Hawkeyeland.

Here are some of the performances:

Charles Brookins (left) has held four world low hurdle records and an American noteworthy performance. Among these is the 220-yard event, which he has three times run in 33 flat, cutting a second and a half from the record.

"Chan" Coulter (right) this year clipped 8-10 of a second from the old world and Olympic 440-meter three foot hurdle mark, making it 33 1-4.

Blanche Bailey (center), Iowa coach, broke both the high and low national marks in a meet this year.

CONCERT AT WORCESTER

Many Enjoy Programs by Mrs. David Jones and Company of Binghamton — Other Worcester Items.

Worcester, Nov. 13. — Mrs. David W. Jones, assisted by Mrs. Edith Carrington, Robert D. Truesdell and Prof. N. Vinton Taylor, all of Binghamton, gave a musical entertainment in the Presbyterian church, last night, which was a real treat to all lovers of good music.

Mrs. Jones' popularity in Worcester was demonstrated by the hearty applause with which she was greeted by the large and appreciative audience.

Mrs. Jones rendered the following contralto solos: Springtime, by R. Becker; Heart's Ease, by Whiteley; The Magiciana, by P. G. Curran; and Wynken, Blynken and Nod, by J. Brockert.

Mr. Truesdell, who has an exceptionally fine tenor voice, gave, Sylvia, H. E. Gould; Songs of Araby, by E. Clay; Duna, by J. McGill.

Mrs. Jones and Mr. Truesdell gave two duets: Harken Unto Me, by Corne and Stary Night, by Deumore.

Prof. Taylor gave two violin solos: Romance, from second concerto, by Wieniawski, and Scene de Ballet, by Debussy.

Mrs. Carrington at the piano accompanied all of the numbers and opened the concert with a piano solo.

Each number was heartily applauded and the artists responded with several encores.

In the last number on the program, "Starry Night," there was a fine harmony of voice, violin and piano, which is seldom heard.

Mrs. Jones' rich and full contralto with Mr. Truesdell's rare tenor held the attention of the audience, and at the close of the entertainment it was said that Prof. Taylor fairly made his violin talk, and all agree that there are few better accompanists than Mrs. Carrington.

The members of the church and the people of Worcester are very grateful to Mrs. Jones and her assistants for this high grade and rare treat.

VIKINGS' CHARTS
SOURCE OF WONDERAstorian American Naval Officers in Iceland.

Reykjavik, Iceland.—American naval officers who visited Iceland in connection with the globe-encircling flight of the American aviators, were greatly interested in the navigation methods of the old vikings who, more than 1,000 years ago, sailed their little vessels, without compasses or other instruments, across the storm-beaten north Atlantic to Iceland, Greenland and even the shores of North America.

Even today the charts of these waters are largely based on observations and soundings made by whalers and the early explorers, scores of years ago, and the few large vessels that today visit these seas proceed with the utmost caution.

Sailing directions, the "Bible of the Sea," are carefully consulted, and when new soundings are made the results are sent to the different governments for incorporation in the charts.

But when Left Ericson and the other adventurous old Norsemen of more than ten centuries ago set out on their dangerous voyages there were no charts, and the stars were the only directional guides.

The observations they made were for centuries the only sailing directions, and were charted, in the form of sagas, as the galleys swept over the rough seas. Some of these sagas exist today, and old pilots at Reykjavik are familiar with the lore they contain.

One of these, describing the journey from Norway to Greenland not only takes account of the physical features to be watched for, but advises the navigators to keep a lookout for the birds and whales that mark the approaches to the Icelandic coast.

A naval officer who made a study of this route found it was almost a perfect great-circle, or shortest sailing route, worked out without any scientific aids by navigators who probably could neither read nor write.

Gas and Poison Clear
Island of Rabbit Pest

Tacoma, Wash.—A barrage of gas, combined with the use of poison, has eradicated the rabbits on Smith Island, in the straits of Juan de Fuca, the entrance of Puget sound.

The rabbits had become such a pest on the island that they were undermining the foundations of the government lighthouse and the naval radio compass station there. Finally an appeal was made to the United States Biological survey and Leo K. Couch, in charge of the work in this state, planned warfare against the rabbits.

Thousands of them were killed in a week by calcium cyanide gas introduced into their burrows and by poison put on apples.

Mr. Couch has prepared data for the information of Australian officials. He believes the experiment may result in the eradication of the pest in Australia.

Force of Gravity

The Naval observatory says that the moon's tide-raising force, when the moon is in its zenith, is about one nine-millionth part of the force of gravity. A ship weighing 45,000 tons would lose 10 pounds of its weight when the moon is overhead.

BANK OF ENGLAND
IS TO BE REBUILT

Temporary Quarters Secured in Another Building.

London.—After functioning in the heart of London's "richest square mile" for 230 years, the Bank of England will cease to exist as the "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street" on its present site at the end of this year.

While not exactly undergoing a rejuvenating process, this national financial institution will be entirely rebuilt to meet modern needs.

In the meantime the huge financial operations connected with the nation's discounting of bills, financing the government and dealing with millions of interest payments on war loans and treasury bills will be handled in a comparatively new block of buildings about a quarter of a mile away in Finsbury Circus. Here will be the home of the "old lady" for about two years.

Strong rooms are being constructed in the new premises for the valuable private and government securities, which total around £125,000,000 sterling, and for the reception of £125,000,000 worth of gold bars and coin held as reserve against notes issued. Some of these valuable securities already have been deposited in the new vaults, but the bullion goes later in horse-drawn lorries.

During the moving process no strangers are allowed to assist in handling the hundreds of tons of treasure, the whole work being carried out by the bank's special staff.

Loving Is Said to Be
Cure for Stuttering

New York.—Do you stutter? A little loving will cure it. If you are not of an amatory disposition, dancing is a slower, but equally sure remedy.

At least, so says Dr. James S. Greene, psychoanalyst and founder of the Epiphitha club. Epiphitha is a Bible word, meaning "thou shalt speak."

The 2,000 members meet once a week. They go through exercises. Then Doctor Greene starts them talking of love. They dance. Ergo, their speech becomes normal.

The only disadvantage, if it should be called such, is that most of the patients cured of stuttering fall in love.

Doctor Greene's motto is: "They don't stutter when they say: 'I love you.'"

Exact Shape of Rain
Drops Being Studied

Friedrichshagen.—What is the shape of a raindrop? In a question which lately has been discussed at length by German scientists. It isn't exactly round, and to this they all agree.

Paul Javoy, chief engineer of the Zeppelin works here, where the ZR-3 is nearing completion for its delivery flight to Lakehurst, N. J., has taken moving pictures of rain drops which he says show that they are flat on the top and on the bottom, due to pressure of the air, while the sides are convex.

In other words, according to Engineer Javoy, falling rain drops as to form might be compared with an apple placed in a press and flattened on its top and bottom to about half its ordinary height.

BUSY OTSEGO SUPERVISORS

Detail Work of Various Committees Progress—Covers Report—Special Tax Levies.

Cooperstown, Nov. 13. — Messrs. Hakes, Davis and Robinson, committee on forms of assessment rolls, submitted their report at the session of the county legislature here today to the effect that the rolls of the various towns had been examined and seemed to conform to the requirements of the law except for a few minor errors, and upon motion of Mr. Hakes the report was adopted. This is the first of the twenty-eight standing committees of the board to submit its report and while the report is short it forms the first step in the long road toward the fixing of the tax ratios of the various tax districts.

Upon motion of Messrs. Hadsell, Davis and Sawyer, a resolution was adopted expressing the thanks and appreciation of the board and of the people of the county to Edward Severin Clark for providing a flag pole and ball for the court house grounds, to A. J. Stratton, general manager; Edward Conklin, superintendent; and Linn Hill, foreman of the Southern New York Railway corporation, for placing such pole, and to Sheriff Converse for his interest in and services rendered in connection with the matter.

Dr. George A. Sloan and Dr. H. A. Ward, coroners of Otsego county, submitted their annual reports and they were ordered referred to the proper committees and placed upon the minutes.

Petitions for the levy of taxes for special purposes in several towns were read and referred to the proper committee as follows:

Unadilla—$121.64, town board of health; $127.14, Riverside lighting district.

Cherry Valley—$345, payment on road machine; $200, village library; $121.80, health fund.

Decatur—$1,386.65, for larva road oil certificate, interest, and road graduation certificate and interest.

New Lisbon—$2,389.24, for the following purposes: paying bond No. 3, $200, interest on bonds Nos. 1, 2 and 3, $15; certificate of indebtedness for general fund, $1,022.40; interest on same, $61.24; certificate of indebtedness for general fund, $200, interest on same, $15; interest on certificate of indebtedness for road fund, $200, interest on same, $15; miscellaneous high school expense, $200.

COMPLAINT UPHOLD

Justice Nichols Finds Sufficient Grounds Shown in Noble-Murdock Action

CASE CONTINUES TODAY

Plaintiff Has Several More Witnesses to Swear With Indications That Combined Case Will Not Go to Jury Until Late Today — Evidence of Hostile Character With Little of Hostile Nature.

Cooperstown, Nov. 13. — The trial of the case of Noble and W. Clinton Noble and Herta Noble, all of Oneonta, against Walter L. Murdock of Oneonta and Cooperstown, an action to recover damages charging fraud and deceit and the sale of stock to the plaintiffs by the defendant in the Miller-Strong Drug corporation, now defendant, at Buffalo, at one time operating stores throughout the state including one at Oneonta, occupied the entire day in supreme court here today, and when court was adjourned this afternoon it was understood that the plaintiff still had several witnesses to call. It is not expected that the case will go to the jury until late in the afternoon.

At the opening of court this morning Justice Nichols ruled on the motion of defense attorneys who held that the allegations set forth in the complaint did not contain sufficient grounds upon which to base such an action, denying the motion.

The plaintiffs in the action were placed upon the stand and were examined at length by both sides of the case involved from the purchase of stock until the calling of the case, which resulted that Walter L. Murdock, the defendant, told them that the Miller-Strong stock was superior to Liberty bonds in that they paid 7 per cent or better, and that the shares would be worth $500 in a short time. They also testified that Mr. Murdock promised them their money back at any time they desired it, and wished to dispose of the stock, even if he had to purchase it himself.

They also charged that Mr. Murdock said that the Oneonta Murdocks held $40,000 in the common stock which he could procure. William McQuire of Buffalo, an accountant with the receivers in bankruptcy of the Miller-Strong corporation, formerly employed by the concern, was another witness sworn by the plaintiff. Upon questions by counsel Mr. McQuire testified that the Murdock families of Oneonta had never held more than $14,000, estimated value, of the stock during the whole course of the stock selling scheme. He produced the tax transfer books of the company and at the instigation of both attorneys carefully traced all of their holdings.

He also testified that the statements of the corporation never showed it in a sound condition. Leon Walters of New Lisbon was also sworn and he testified that he had a written agreement from Walter L. Murdock to repurchase the stock which the witness bought at any time, but that upon demand Murdock refused to comply. Joseph C. Lake, of Oneonta, was called and he testified that when his father died, holding stock in the corporation, he went to Murdock who reluctantly did rebuy the stock. All witnesses were closely cross-examined by L. L. Herzog, of Syracuse, attorney for the defense, with the evident object of establishing the good intentions of his client besides discrediting their statements.

Through the cross-examination of McQuire he established that Murdock was the holder of more or less stock during all the time he was employed in the sale of stock. The defense also maintained that alone the Murdock family meant, was not the Murdock family of Oneonta, but all the relatives of Walter L. Murdock. McQuire testified that a list which Mr. Murdock produced in evidence, was read by him to Murdock, the list showing that relatives of W. L. Murdock had holdings of about $20,000.

Mr. Murdock testified that regarding his knowledge of affairs neither he nor others could examine the books of the concern to determine its condition without a court order.

In the cross-examination of Walters it developed that he did not ask the repurchase of his stock by Murdock until after the company was in bankruptcy, at which time it was refused. There is much interest throughout the county in this proceeding.

Charles C. Flasech of Unadilla is associated as counsel with Mr. Kellogg in the plaintiff's case, while Mr. Herzog and Mr. Beeghly of the firm of Brewster, Herzog & Johnson, of Syracuse, are conducting the case of the defense.

AT HARTWICK TONIGHT

Oneonta High School Outlets to Meet First Yearmen Team Tonight

This evening the Yellow and White basketball team of this city will journey to Hartwick Seminary, there to clash with the first team of that institution for the second league contest of the season. There are many from here who are planning to accompany the team, but for those who remain at home The Star will receive the phone results at the end of each half, and will be glad to furnish the scores to inquirers.

Hartwick last week lost a close contest to Cooperstown High school after playing two overtime periods and a team to be reckoned with. Oneonta also lost last week's game by the same margin of points, and while the predictions are being made it is certain that Oneonta will fight determinedly to avoid another defeat.

The game with Hartwick Seminary last year was played in Oneonta, Hartwick taking the league until the season, and was a very close one. Those who go to Hartwick Seminary this evening to see a close game will probably not be disappointed.

Coach Hasdorff will take the following squad with him: Peterson and Murdock, centers; Mulkins, Delaney, Hudson, and Shaw, forwards; and O'Brien, Hamilton and Edmunds, guards.

Election Expenses.

Only three local candidates in Otsego county have filed statements of campaign expenses with the commissioners of election. These are Arthur A. Pierson, county judge, reported nothing and paid out nothing; Lewis Pratt, Democratic candidate for superintendent of the poor paid out $72.25; Melvin J. Esnay, successful Republican candidate for same office, $265. All candidates have until Monday, November 17, to file statements.

BIG PEA CROP IN NEW YORK

Seventy Million Cans in the Nation to Green Crop of Year.

Approximately three million cases, which would be 24,000,000 cans, was New York state's contribution to the pea production of the nation this year, according to figures recently compiled.

Of the 19,510,000 cases of peas produced in the United States, which broke all records, 2,311,000 were put up in New York state, according to the foundation. Wisconsin leads the nation with 10,266,000 cases, New York follows and Maryland is third with 6,229,000. Other heavy producers are Utah, 4,200,000; Michigan, 2,100,000; Minnesota, 4,200,000; and Ohio, 430,000. All the states the production of Utah showed an increase over last year.

The cool moist season last summer, which caused the sweet corn and tomato pack to suffer, brought heavy pea yields in most sections, producing over 19 million cases of 24 cans each. In 1923, the best largest year on record, 14 million cases were packed. This 46 per cent increase over the preceding year might have produced a depressing effect on the wholesale markets, but for the tremendous appetite for peas the public has developed. The country's pea production in 1920 was over 12 million cases, but in 1920 only a little more than four million cases were packed.

There are 6,369 farms in New York which are engaged in pea raising, the latest U. S. census show, totaling 12,440 acres to the product which is valued at $285,251.

STORING WINTER POTATOES

Tubers Need Good Ventilation To Keep Well in Cellars or Pits.

Piling potatoes too deeply or confining them in bins from which the air is excluded may result in dark brown or black areas in the center of the potatoes commonly known as blackheart. Too high a temperature in the storage place will also produce symptoms of blackheart, but exclusion of air, even at low temperatures, results in loss from blackheart. These facts have been brought out by experiments made at the New York State Agricultural experiment station at Geneva where a study was made of the effect of storing potatoes in different ways.

If the tubers are to be stored at temperatures below 45 degrees F., they can be piled to a depth of 6 feet without danger of too closely confining the tubers on the bottom of the pile and leading to the development of blackheart, says the station potato specialist. Where the storage place will have a temperature of 50 degrees or more, however, as is the case in most home cellars, it is regarded as unsafe to pile the potatoes to a depth of more than 3 feet if they are to be kept longer than three or four weeks.

QUALITY GOODS AT FAIR PRICES

When you want a new suit of clothes—a new hat—a new pair of shoes, why do you patronize the first-class stores of the city?

Quality, of course!

Instead of the cheaper cuts of meat, which are wholesome, too—why do you, as often as possible, buy porterhouse steak?

Quality, again!

And so it goes—on and on; we are always seeking "Quality," and whenever we find it, we remember it, long after "Price" is forgotten.

NOW—isn't it reasonable to expect to find quality groceries only in quality stores?

We grocers of this city have built up our business along quality lines and to substitute "Price" as the main issue, would be sacrificing and destroying the principles we have so long maintained.

A grocery store with nothing to offer but "Price," pretty soon has nothing to offer.

We wish, this week, to call your attention to our splendid grades of Coffee.

In making good Coffee, you know the main thing is to START with Good Coffee — some standard brand which you know is the same quality month in and month out.

In quality Coffee you get extra coffee value for no more money than you pay for other coffees and you can depend upon it being the SAME each time you buy.

Our coffees are selected, blended and roasted by experts and come in one-pound, air-tight containers which keep them FRESH and CLEAN. The days of the grocers who sold four or five kinds of coffee from ONE can under the counter, are gone, and in their places are modern merchants who realize that the popular demand is QUALITY.
